An assessment was recently conducted to further improve the building's efficiency and reduce its environmental impact. Several initiatives support this commitment, translating sustainability goals into concrete, day-to-day practices throughout the property.

- An ongoing energy audit is in place to continuously monitor and optimize energy use. The building also actively participates in Hydro-Québec's peak demand management program during winter events.
- The property maintains its LEED Gold certification, and its landscaping complies with LEED standards.
- Water conservation efforts include a low-consumption drip irrigation system and water meters to track overall usage.
- Waste management is handled through robust recycling and composting programs, with safe disposal of specialized materials. All gardening waste is diverted from landfills.
- An on-site beehive program further reflects a holistic approach to sustainability while promoting biodiversity.
